

Tried and True Events

FAFSA Night (Boston)

All seniors and/or parents are invited to a high school one night in January where they receive a computer and are walked through the online FAFSA. An admissions counselor at a local university is the MC of the night, leading the students/parents through any questions they may have. The other volunteers stand in the gap as needed, from helping parents learn how to use the computer to supplying snacks, to answering questions.